

LIGHTENING THE FUN WAYS TO STYLE A KURTI

Kurtis are a must-have in every Indian woman's wardrobe. They are the epitome of Indian traditions, ethnicity, grace, and elegance. But with the emergence of western women's clothing influence, a large number of the female population is inclined towards dressing in western attire. Designers, celebrities, and influencers are thus, trying innovative approaches to style their kurtis in a way that infuses the ethnic as well as the western clothing style. Here are a few styling tips for women to style their Kurtis in an indo-western style:

KEEPING DENIMS IN PARALLEL

Pairing ethnic clothing with denim jackets and jeans is a popular style these days. Denim jeans and jackets made of denim are staples in any girl's wardrobe. The combination of ethnic clothing and denim will elevate your appearance and give you a chic voguish look. Adding oxidized jewelry to the look will give your outfit a traditional look with a modish twist.

SPICING UP WITH ACCESSORIES

Accessories are perfect to enhance your look on every occasion and further express an individual’s style and personality. Excessive jewelry or mismatched accessories may quickly ruin your style, even if you dressed flawlessly. Therefore, one should carefully. Adding rings, earrings, and purses to your ethnic clothing gives it a beautiful appearance.

TRYING DIFFERENT BOTTOM WEARS

Instead of wearing the typical matching-color kurti leggings, wear your kurti with contrasting bottom wears. It will give you a stylish appearance and will accentuate your overall look. You may get a sophisticated and sleek style by styling with contrasting bottom wears like palazzos, flared skirts, pants, and other bottom wear rather than wearing plain leggings.

ADDS SOPHISTICATION WITH OVER-LAYERING

Over-layering your traditional Kurtis or top gives your ethnic look more sophistication. You may create an Indo-Western statement outfit by wearing a shrug or a jacket. Be it long or short sleeves, this outfit will never go out of fashion. Although overlaying can be done with long as well as short kurtis it goes best with A-Line, Anarkali, Angrakha, and flared kurtis.

CHOOSING THE IDEAL FOOTWEAR

Although they are equally as important as any other element of an outfit, footwear is frequently overlooked when styling an outfit. While styling a kurti, one can wear juttis or flat sandals for a casual occasion and heels for a special occasion. Pairing your ethnic wear with the right jutti, or heels according to the outfit and occasion decides the vibe of your outfit.
